

De Leon Productions is the pinnacle of customer service and showmanship! Every year I hire different people to make my daughters' birthday party special and memorable. After having De Leon performers at the most recent party, I will never switch to a different company. All my guests were amazed and mesmerized by the top notch and very experienced performers!

When I first called Nicole from De Leon Productions, she offered to come to my house and work with me to determine the best entertainment for my yard. She did not try to oversell or undersell and was very professional in all of her dealings with me. She exceeded my expectations economically, in customer service and with the incredible talent. It was obvious she knew this business inside and out. All of her recommendations were perfect for the venue and the guests which included children of all ages and adults. Nicole designed the entertainment for the party perfectly. Any corporation or individual would be lucky to hire Nicole and her entertainers as well.

The performers' talent superseded my expectations and those of the guests. None of the guests had ever seen an aerial act over a pool at a residence before. It has been a few months and people still approach me about how amazing the party was. My guests had never seen such versatile jugglers at a party. They could balance furniture such as tables and chairs, perform strength feats, juggle fire, and interact well with the guests including juggling instruction. One of them even rode a 12 foot unicycle and genuinely looked like he was ready to fall when he had perfect control the entire time. Many people at the party asked how I could possibly top this year's party, but my answer is always that there is no way to have a better party next year because De Leon is unequalled in talent and professionalism.

I highly recommend De Leon Productions for any event.
